Description

The six brand new retail units are situated at ground floor level, below residential apartments above. They are visible from the development's main central plaza. The units will have glazed frontages and will be delivered to a 'shell and core' specification, including concrete floors, block walls and capped services - ready for an occupier fit out.

Location

Cambridge is an historic university city with a population of over 130,000 people, including 25,000 students. The Darwin Green development is located approximately 1.6 miles north west of Cambridge city centre, accessed via Huntingdon Road, which is approximately 200m away and is one of the main arterial routes in and out of Cambridge connecting the city with the A14 and beyond. The retail units front Darwin Street, adjacent to Park Street, one of the main roads leading into the Darwin Green development. They will form part of the central plaza and are situated in the heart of the development.
