The site has dual road access both onto the A61 (Ripon Road) and A59 (Skipton Road) and comprised part of a former gas works. As stated above the site has road frontage onto Ripon Road and then slopes down to the Oak Beck before sloping back up towards the residential houses off Electric Avenue. To the north east of the site at the corner of Skipton Road and Ripon Road there is the operational gas site and the site extends round the existing gasometer.

The subject site is 3.15 hectares (7.80 acres) and is generally laid down to hardstanding and has a number of trees surrounding and on the site.
